

Soil Health Conference

"Grazing Strategies for Optimum Benefit to your Herd and your Soil"

Wednesday, Feb. 23rd, 2022 9am-3pm

One Box Convention Center - Broken Bow, NE

Free Registration & Free Lunch.

Take advantage of this opportunity to learn more about these ever evolving topics from experts in the field.

- Mike Kelly Producer, third-generation cattle rancher, North Platte, NE, . The Kelly family has a long history of ranching back to the original homestead ranch in Keith County in 1885. The Kelly Ranch is a past National Cattlemen's Beef Association National Environmental Stewardship Award Winner, a Regional Administrators Award for Environmental Excellence from the EPA. The ranch has also received the Nebraska Section Society for Range Management Rangeland's Award because of their willingness to share their knowledge with others through formal and informal ranch tours and presentations
- Stan Boltz Registered Soil Health Specialist, NVCS- South Dakota "Grazing Management to Improve Soil Health
- Shawn Freeland, Cow Calf Operator and No-Till farmer, Caputa, South Dakota "Our Soil Health Journey: Shawn's farm has been completely no till since 2016. He also utilizes cover crops, livestock grazing of cover crops, and managed intensive grazing practices.
- Ethan Feese, Producer, Photographer/Videographer, School of Natural Resources, UNL, "Platte Basin Time-lapse Project- Using photography to teach others about these undervalued ecosystems."
- Nick Ward, PhD, Agronomist, President Ward Labs, Kearney Ward Lab's "If your soil could talk, what would it say?" Learn how testing can tell you what you need for improved soil health and how healthy soil adds dollars to your bottom line.
- Rich Russell, Arrow Seed Regional Sales agronomist with information about SoilBuilder™ and the commitment to Soil Health

Seating is limited so please pre-register by Tuesday, Feb. 15th!

Register for FREE at ArrowSeed.com, or call Arrow Seed at 800-622-4727 or 308-872-6826

This free educational event sponsored by Arrow Seed Co., Inc.

